

Brightwater Club Property Owners Association

Dear New or Prospective Property Owner,

As the managers of the Property Owners Association we have prepared the accompanying summary of pertinent information for new or prospective owners. Please understand that this is only a summary and all documents, most of which are available at www.BrightwaterPOA.org, should be reviewed in detail before purchasing property in the community. Also, some items change from time to time which may not yet be reflected in the current version of this document.

Helpful Information:

Gate Access-

Property owners may request a pin code that can be used to access the property through the gates. Residents or other regular accessors of the property may also obtain a license plate bar with a $50 deposit per bar for faster routine access. A separate pin code(s) can be provided for use by contractors to allow tracking of activity through the gates. Residents may also request to have their name added to the gate directory so that visitors can contact them directly to be allowed access through the gates. To obtain a gate code, please contact Matt Hayden with Elevated Colorado management at matt@elevatedcolorado.com.

Conservation Easement-

The Association owns the parcels of land that generally encompass the area from the Western boundary of the project to the upper bank of the eastern side of the Gypsum Creek. This area is within a restricted conservation easement that limits the use of the property to non-impact activities such as walking and fishing. No camping, hunting, or use by pets is allowed and all owners must carefully clean up after themselves.

Other Club Properties-

Besides the Castoff Cabin and Conservation Easement, all other club property (golf course, lake house, ponds, gatehouse and limited other areas) are not leased by the Association and due to liability concerns, owners are asked to not access these areas. These properties are owned by the new developer of Brightwater Club, Siena Development. As this change is relatively new, the time-frame and potential changes proposed by the new developer have yet to be announced and are, of course, unknown.

Filing 3 Maintenance-

If purchasing a property in filing 3, please be aware that it was intended that the Association perform landscape and other maintenance items and owners would be charged additional amounts to cover such costs. However, the Association is currently NOT providing or billing additional amounts for these services and therefore it is the owners responsibility to perform such functions.

Weed Control-

Although it is normally the responsibility of each owner to control their own noxious weeds, the Association has assumed this responsibility for all unimproved/vacant lots. Home owners are still responsible for weed control within their lawn areas.

Trash Cans-

Please store your trash cans inside of your garage at all times and only put your trash cans out the morning of pickup. If you are unable to bring your can in later that same day, please arrange with someone to have them bring it in for you.

Community Rules and Regulations:

The Association has adopted Rules and Regulations, which along with other related Association Documents, are available at www.BrightwaterPOA.org under the Governing Documents page. Some of the more important rules to be aware of include:
